About the Conference

The 2nd International Conference on Creativity, Innovation and Artificial Intelligence for Global Sustainability, 2026 stands as a flagship global academic and policy-oriented conference dedicated to examining the transformative role of creativity, innovation, artificial intelligence, and intellectual property in advancing sustainable development and global justice. Organised by the Centre for Development of Intellectual Property and Research (CDIPR), Naovina Development of Intellectual Property and Research Foundation in association with the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), the Global Innovation Policy Center (GIPC) and the Indian Centre for Child and Human Rights (ICCHR), this Conference builds upon the resounding success of its first edition held in 2025. It brings together leading scholars, researchers, policymakers, legal professionals, technologists, environmentalists, innovators, and students from across the world to engage in meaningful, interdisciplinary dialogue.

Scheduled to be held on 17th January, 2026, the Conference aims to foster critical engagement on how AI-driven innovation and creative ecosystems can be responsibly governed to address pressing global challenges relating to climate change, sustainability, digital governance, human rights, child protection, and inclusive growth. Selected papers will be considered for publication in high-impact international academic platforms, offering participants global scholarly visibility and policy relevance. Selected papers will be published in the International Edited Volume titled, “Digital Future & Sustainable Innovation: Global Perspectives on Creativity, Artificial Intelligence and Law” with ISBN. This publication will be disseminated across 15+ countries, offering worldwide academic visibility.

Legacy of the First Edition

The inaugural edition of the Conference marked:

- Participation from 83 Nations, reflecting truly global academic engagement
- Contributions from scholars, policymakers, legal professionals, technologists and sustainability experts across continents
- Publication of the Conference Edited Volume, which has been indexed in more than 20+ National Libraries and Research Institutions worldwide, significantly enhancing its academic credibility, accessibility, and long-term scholarly impact

Encouraged by this remarkable response, the Second Edition (2026) aims to further elevate the scale, quality and global reach of interdisciplinary research on AI, innovation, sustainability, human rights, and governance.
